Monitor your flocks for any signs of increased mortality.

Pay particular attention if any birds are showing signs of respiratory illness or distress.

If concerned, call the Poultry Health Hotline at 302-698-4507 or you can send an email to poultry.health@delaware.gov with contact information, size of flock, location, and concerns.

You will be contacted if a sample needs to be taken.

DO NOT take dead or sick birds to a lab to be tested or move them off-site!

If necessary, personnel will notify you and then arrange to visit the site to take a sample.
